VOLLEY OF BEANS FOR A CONSTABLE

A. F. Schmid, of South Heights, Draws Fire From a Crowd of Boys.

GETS LEADER AFTER CHASE

Taken to Police Station, and Afterward to Home Where Party is in Progress.

Constable A. F. Schmid, of South Heights, performed a feat in sprinting in the city last night that he feels pride in relating, and in the bargain chastised a crowd of boys who were having sport at the peril of passengers on cars on the Longview loop passing on Fifteenth street in the block between Seventh and Eighth avenues.

The constable was coming down to the city on a car about 8 o'clock, and was standing on the rear platform, when suddenly he received a charge of beans in the face. He happened to turn in the direction from which the attack was aimed and detected several young fellows standing on the curb holding blowers to their mouths.

Brings Down the Leader.

Schmid alighted from the car, and gave chase. The boys separated, and he singled out the one that he supposed to be the leader, for he was the larger one of the party. Fences were scaled, barns entered, and fire drawn from dogs in the neighborhood. The constable brought down his quarry, but not before both were on the point of exhaustion. The lad, who is a football player of some local note, had lost his hat in the chase, and he was piloted bareheaded to police headquarters, where he confessed that he was one of the culprits. He declared that the boys were indulging in what they deemed harmless amusement. They directed their blowing at the windows of the cars, in order to scare the passengers on the inside, and he could not explain how it happened that the constable got the full charge of the squad unless it was that the car was moving more rapidly than they had reckoned. It was simply a case of poor marksmanship.

Gives Up Comrades' Names.

The lad was detained at the station for nearly an hour. First he was inclined to protect his comrades, declining to reveal their identity, but when pressed he consented, and gave their names. Mr. Schmid then accompanied the boy to the home in front of which he and his companions were standing when the constable was attacked. There was a party in progress there, it transpired, and the boys that were with him operating the bean blowers had returned to the house and were enjoying the festivities, not mentioning the fate of their comrade. He had been missed by the others, but no one would venture an explanation of his absence. When he appeared at the front door under the strong arm of the law, his football hair waving in the breeze, he was a picture of despair. He did not know whether he was to be prosecuted for assault and battery, or an attempt to wreck a public career.

Hostess to the Rescue.

He was speechless, and his companions were shaking like old men with the ague, but the hostess relieved the tension by inviting the constable into the house, where she apologized for the misbehavior of the boys, and promised that they would be more careful in future. Whereupon the constable melted, and said that he would let the boys off this one time.

Funeral of Mrs. Norris.

The funeral of Mrs. Fredericka Norris was held yesterday afternoon from the family residence in South Rock Island. Rev. C. A. Mennicke, of the German Lutheran church, conducted the services, assisted by his son, Rev. E. D. Mennicke. There was present a large concourse of sorrowing friends. Hymns were rendered by a quartet. Interment was in Chippian rock cemetery, where the South Rock Island camp of Royal Neighbors conducted the last rites, Mrs. Norris being the first member of that camp to depart this life.

HE FIGHTS BACK TAX

Frank L. Natt, of Moline, Will Not Pay $600 Unearthed by Ferrets.

Frank L. Natt, of Moline, is in arrears to the county $600 in taxes that have been revealed by the ferrets that have been exploring the records at the court house the past year under authority of the county board of supervisors. The county has been enriched approximately $125,000 by the work of the ferrets, but Mr. Natt refused to pay on the returns of the ferrets. He has been threatened with a levy against his property to recover the amount, but will fight this procedure. He has retained G. W. McCaskrin, of this city as his attorney, and Mr. McCaskrin served notice on County Treasurer Lyon today that a levy was attempted he would apply for a restraining order in the circuit court.

HOLDS WATER SAFE

Analytical Report on Sample From Fifth Avenue Well—Commissioner Sees Danger.

Health Commissioner G. G. Craig Jr., has received from Robert W. Stark, assistant chemist at the University of Illinois, a report on a sample of water taken from the well at Eighteenth street and Fifth avenue, to which several cases of typhoid fever have been traced during the summer and fall, resulting in the commissioner closing the well.

The report of the chemist is: "This water appears to be in perfectly satisfactory condition. The high oxygen consumed and the large amount of free and albuminoid ammonia would be unfavorable indications if this water was from an ordinary shallow dug well. Such conditions, however, are frequently found in water from deep wells. Moreover, the small chlorine content indicates the absence from so far as a sanitary chemical analysis would indicate this is a perfectly safe and wholesome water."

Despite the favorable findings of the chemical examination, Commissioner Craig is disinclined to believe that there is no danger in the consumption of the water from the well, and for the time being he will not permit of its use.

ALLARS LET OFF WITH $300 FINE

Pleads Guilty to Maintaining a Disorderly House in Rock Island.

WIFE'S CASE IS DISMISSED

Sensational Proceeding is Terminated in the County Court Yesterday.

William Allars, a former Rock Island saloonkeeper, now a citizen of Davenport, came into the county court here yesterday afternoon and entered a plea of guilty to three counts of an indictment charging him with keeping a house of ill fame. He was fined $100 on each count. The fine was paid.

Allars and his wife Carrie were indicted jointly by the grand jury for harboring a girl under 18 years of age and for keeping a house of ill fame. Mrs. Allars was tried before a jury on the former indictment and was acquitted, after a sensational trial, in which it was shown that Mable Wright, a Moline girl under age had been harbored at the Blue Goose, on First avenue, of which Allars was the proprietor.

Girl an Employee, Woman Says.

The defendant swore that the girl was employed there, and came to the house of her own volition, and was not forcibly detained, as the prosecution sought to establish. Since the effort to convict the woman had proven fruitless, the state decided not to push the charge against the husband, and his case was postponed in the circuit court this week. The joint indictment for keeping a disorderly house was certified to the county court, and Allars pleaded guilty to three of the counts alleged therein. The indictment against his wife was nolle prossed by the state.

Two Saloonkeepers Fined.

Two East Moline saloonkeepers, Camiel Van de Voorde and A. Van der Becke, pleaded guilty each to two counts in informations charging them with keeping an open tipping house on Sunday. They were fined $20 on each count.

SOCIALS FOR THE WINTER

Plans of the Young Men's Christian Association.

At the meeting of the social committee of the Y. M. C. A., composed of Otto Muenster, Robert Hoffman, J. M. Hogsett, Fred Raugh and Jacob Andes Thursday eve, plans were made for the coming winter season of the association. A novel departure will be introduced at the socials of the association this year, and instead of having the socials given by the church organizations, as in the past, they are to be in the nature of receptions for the various organizations of the city including Company A, I. N. G., the Naval Reserves, arsenal employees of Rock Island, Rock Island P. W. company employees, young men students of the Rock Island high school and of Augustana college, and others. The first of these receptions is to be given in honor of Company A, Dec. 12. The committee will act as the entertainers instead of the organizations, as in the past.

The association committee will make a more important feature of the socials this season than has been done before, as this is recognized as the one strong point where the workers can get the young men interested in the association. The usual New Year's open house will be kept by the association this year the Monday following New Year's day, as the holiday falls on Sunday.
